2. Description of Processing.

2.1 Scope of Processing.

(a) Subject Matter. Provider and Customer enter into this DPA to establish their respective rights and obligations with regard to the Processing of Personal Data in connection with the performance of the Agreement. While the Parties acknowledge that the precise Data Protection Laws that apply to the Permitted Processing will depend on the nature and location of the Permitted Processing, the Parties agree that, unless otherwise stated herein, this DPA applies to the Permitted Processing irrespective of whether the GDPR or any other Data Protection Law applies.

(b) Purpose of Processing. Provider is Processing Personal Data to provide the Services to Customer and its Authorized Users in accordance with the Agreement.

(c) Types of Personal Data; Categories of Data Subjects. Provider is Processing the Services Personal Data. The Data Subjects of the Services Personal Data may include Customer's employees, customers, suppliers, and end-users.

(d) Nature of Processing. Provider will receive, store, and perform other Processing actions on the Personal Data in all cases as required to fulfill the purpose of Processing described above, as may be described in further detail in the Documentation.

(e) Duration of Processing. Provider will Process the Personal Data for so long as Provider is providing the Services to Customer and/or its Authorized Users (the "Processing Term"). At the conclusion of the Processing Term, at Customer's election (as communicated to Provider in writing), Provider shall delete or return all Services Personal Data, provided that Provider may retain such copies of the Services Personal Data as are required to comply with applicable Law.

2.2 Role of Parties; Processing Instructions. In connection with all Processing occurring under this DPA, Provider is a processor of the Services Personal Data, and Customer is a controller or processor, as applicable. Provider shall Process the Service Personal Data only for the purpose described in Section 2.1(b) of this DPA and as necessary to comply with additional written instructions concerning Personal Data Processing that Customer gives to Provider (collectively, "Processing Instructions"). The Parties agree that this DPA, including specifically the Processing Instructions, constitutes the documented instructions from the Controller described in Article 28 of the GDPR. If Customer is a Processor of the Services Personal Data, Customer represents and warrants that the Processing Instructions and Customer's appointment of Provider as another Processor have been authorized by the relevant Controller. Provider shall immediately inform Customer if, in Provider's opinion, any Processing Instruction violates the GDPR or any other Data Protection Law.

2.3 Data Security and Confidentiality. Provider will maintain appropriate technical, physical, and administrative safeguards to protect the security and integrity of the Services Personal Data, as may be described from time-to-time in the Documentation. Provider will treat the Services Personal Data as confidential and protect it in accordance with Section 6 of the main body of this Agreement. Provider shall ensure that its employees and contractors involved in the Permitted Processing are subject to obligations of confidentiality (whether contractual, statutory, or otherwise) consistent with those set forth in the main body of the Agreement. This Section 2.3 does not limit Customer's responsibility for using appropriate technical, physical, and administrative safeguards to protect the Services Personal Data and otherwise using the Services consistent with the Documentation and in a secure manner, including, without limitation, by securing Authorized Users' credentials and retaining copies of the Services Personal Data as appropriate.

2.4 Compliance with Data Protection Laws. Without limiting anything in this DPA, each Party shall comply with all Data Protection Laws in the course of its performance of the Agreement and this DPA.

2.5   Sub-processors. Customer authorizes Provider to use third Persons to perform any of the Permitted Processing or to otherwise fulfill Provider's obligations under this DPA (such Persons, "Sub-processors"). On Customer's written request (no more than once per six (6)-month period), Provider will provide a substantially complete list of Sub-processors. Provider will restrict each Sub-processor's access to Services Personal Data to that which is necessary for such Sub-processor to provide its services to Provider and will enter into a written agreement with each Sub-processor imposing on such Sub-processor the same obligations imposed on Provider under this DPA.

3.   Provider Assistance.

3.1   Assistance. Provider shall reasonably assist Customer with complying with the GDPR and other Data Protection Laws as follows:

Customer shall ensure that any third parties it engages to conduct any such audit is subject to confidentiality obligations that protect Provider's Confidential Information learned during any such audit consistent with the Agreement. Provider may impose any procedural steps on audits and inspections conducted under this Section 3.2 and may refuse any requests for an audit or inspection, in each case to the fullest extent permitted under Data Protection Laws.

4.   Data Transfers.

4.1   Data Transfer. Once stored in the EEA, the United Kingdom, and/or Switzerland, Provider may transfer Services Personal Data out of the EEA, the United Kingdom, and/or Switzerland only if reasonably required for Provider to provide services to Customer or to obtain services from a Subprocessor. Except as permitted under the previous sentence, Provider will not transfer Services Personal Data out of the EEA, the United Kingdom, and/or Switzerland without Customer's prior written consent. Any transfer out of the EEA, the United Kingdom, and/or Switzerland to a country not recognized by the European Commission as providing adequate levels of protection for Personal Data (as described in Article 45 of the GDPR, the UK GDPR, or the FADP, as applicable) shall be subject to the applicable Standard Contractual Clauses (as completed and/or modified pursuant to Section 4.2).
